feature of Carnival night, and, if so, whether the murderer shall not be at least reprimanded. Mr. Lowe does not propose that murderers shall take human life with entire impunity if he can prevent it. If it becomes necessary, Mr. Lowe will throw himself into the breach, along with his assistants, and then let murderers tremble. Prosecutor Lowe has had since October 7, over a month, to look up the evidence against Crowley. It was no secret that there had been eye witnesses of the killing. Their names were known. Their testi-mony was available. Yet when the long delayed preliminary examination of Crow ley was taken up last Monday, the state had only a beggarly array of witnesses present and not one that could give direct testimony as to the killing. There was not a bit of evidence to show murder, and under the circumstances, Justice Spitz

WHAT THE RECORDS SHOW.

Forty-nine Cases of Diphtheria and Forty-five of Scarlet Fever in the Schools Since Their Opening.

In a small box in the office of the secre tary of the board of education is kept a file of reports of contagious cases found among the pupils of the various schools. The reports are sent to the office by the board of health. Each slip contains the name of the pupil found iii, and the residence and names of the parents. The file is kept beside the principals' mail box and it is intended that the principals of each of the schools shall look over the "health" file each time they get their mail, so that they will know if any other children from the family where contagious disease exists are attending school. This file shows that up to November 1, there have been 49 cases of diphtheria, 45 cases of scarlet fever and 8 cases of membraneous croup among pupils of the ward school since the opening of the schools, September 13. of health. The teacher passed to the next pupil, a rosy checked, bright eyed boy.

"Api-a-r-y" pronounced the teacher.

"A-p-i-a-r-y" spelled the boy, with a "that's ensy" confidence in his tone; "a place to keep apes," he added as the definition.

WORM HAS TURNED.

Brewers Meet and Plan a Campaign on the Kansas Legislature for the Expected Extra Session.

All brewers of the city and representatives of the big brewerles that have headquarters here were in conference for several hours yesterday at the Coates House discussing the plan of attack on the prohibitory laws of Kansas to be made at the session of the legislature they believe Governor Leedy will call during the winter. The brewers have decided it costs too much to run their business in Kansas under the prohibitory laws. The worm has der the prohibitory laws. The worm has turned, and the brewers claim it is better and cheaper to make a final stand and get some bocus pocus action of the legislature that will unsettle the law, than to continue doing business under cover and payers for the shelts. They want to supply made extract that is required for Randall the struct that is required for Randall the shelts. They want to supply the foliations who have always been on hand to mak things for them. They have suffered in silence for a long time, but now they feel they have a kick coming and they propose to make it good and strong. They all say it just happened the conference was held. Colonel Frgd Pubst, of allwaukee, was in the city tooking after this line of trade, and Philip Stock, of St. Louis, also chanced to be here. They decided a conference was proper, and the local prepresentatives of other brewers were called in, as well as the local brewers, and they decided to root issues and test and they decided to pool issues and get all forces combined for the last attack on the law.

There is a big demand for beer in Kansas. Populism has a terrible thirst. With increasing orders came increasing demand for financial help. The brewers want the business, but they are all objecting to the incidentals that are attached to every action by all of the petty officials of the counties and cities. They claim it is worse now than ever. Men in office want help to stay there; men out want help to get in. The patience of the brewers has at last been too severely tested, and they have rebeded. Of course, after such a meeting and such a determination, Governor Leedy will doubtless hesitate to call a special session of the legislature when he knows the pitfalls and temptations that await the zealour advocates of free silver and insurance reform. It would be somewhat embarrassing for him to have another half dozen senators get up and explain how they had been "approached," and how it had taken them four weeks to conclude that they had been insulted; it wouldn't add to the credit of the party.

After the meeting yesterday there were

them four weeks to conclude that they had been insulted; it wouldn't add to the credit of the party.

After the meeting yesterday there were conflicting rumors made public. Some of the meeting denied the purpose for which it was called, while others admitted the whole affair, and said the brewers had perfected a plan that would be followed. Evidently the arrangements desired were completed, for Colonel Pabst and Mr. Stock left the city last evening for their homes.

The leaders of the movement to get jobs for the unemployed did not put in an appearance and the few men who came sat about the card table playing cards for an hour or more and then left the place. The meeting may be held to-night. It will not be held at all in this particular place unless that other $3.50 is raised.

GENERAL BLANCO'S RADICAL RE-FORMS IN CUBA.

RELIEF FOR RECONCENTRADOS

EDITOR OF THE MADRID EL HERAL-DO IN WASHINGTON.

No Thought in Spain, He Says, of a Resort to War-President Mc-Kinley Likely to Recommend a Policy of Non-Interference.

Washington, Nov. 10 .- Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister, has received the following cable message from General Blanco governor general of Cuba:

"Reconcentrados-Extensive zones of cultivation have been organized, daily rations are provided by the state and work is furnished. They will be well treated, and can be employed by the planters. They have free transportation and are protected in every way. Provincial protective committees have been formed and have already entered upon their functions. They will continue being organized in the remaining provinces, with the object of procuring the necessary relief funds. Subscriptions have been set on foot to relieve first necessities. Everything that is humanly possible is being done."

"Grinding-An edict was published to-day not only granting permission to grind sugar, but advising this be done, and offering the necessary military and civil protection. Not a moment is lost in attending to all immediate needs, which form the object of my personal attention. It is impossible to do more than I have done in the time that has elapsed. BLANCO." Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister, called at the state department to-day and had a short conference with Assistant Secretary Day, presumably with reference to fillbustering operations. It is the practice of the Spanish legation to inform the state department instantly of the intention of any party of filibusters to depart from Cuba as the information comes to it through its agents.

Prominent Spaniard in Washington. Senor Jose Canalejas, one of the foremost public men of Spain, editor of the El Heraldo, of Madrid, former minister of justice in the Liberal ministry, and closely dentified with Premier Sagasta and the new Liberal regime in Spain, arrived in Wash ington to-day, accompanied by Captain Vegs and Mr. Alexander Saint Aubin, of Midrid While the visit is unofficial, much interest attaches to it among public men, owing to Senor Canalejas' intimate knowledge of conditions at the Spanish capital, and also for the facility it affords for conference between him and Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister. The latter called on Senor Canalejas soon after hi arrival, and the two were together much of the day, being joined later by Mr. Calderon Carlisle, counsel for the legation, and by the numerous staff of the minister.

Senor Canalejas accorded to a representative of the Associated Press a brief in terview. Having recently arrived in this country, he expressed himself as little acwith conditions here, but as to those in Madrid he spoke freely.

"The feeling there is one of expect-ancy," said he, in good English, but marked Spanish accent. "But there is little or ne feeling that a serious crisis will present itself between the United States and Spain and there is no thought in well informed circles that extreme measures, or a resort to war, will result. On the contrary, the action of the Spanish government has given every hope of a continuance of the mos friendly relations with the United States and a satisfactory conclusion of the Cubar conflict.

Change of Policy in Cuba.

"A complete change of policy has resulted from the accession of the Liberal ministry and the aggressive policy executed by General Wevler is now succeeded by the mor conciliatory methods of that peaceful soldier. General Blanco. He has but jus anded in Cuba, and there is little opportunity thus far to judge of the mild and beneficial policy he is charged ecuting, but we in Madrid, who know his high character and the desires of those who send him, feel assured that good results will come from his mission

"As to the autonomy which Spain now offers to Cuba, it is autonomy of genuin character, and it is tendered in the sincerest good faith, believing that it affords the surest guaranty of restoring peace to Cuba and giving prosperity to the island. "In all internal affairs the autonomy now afforded will give the Cuban people entir freedom in shaping their own affairs. With such a policy in view, and with General Blanco to put it into execution, there is every assurance that Spain will do all her power to restore peace and prosperity in Cuba. Moreover, we look with confidence on the success of that policy. We are naturally desirous that our friends in the United States should recognize the complete change of policy which has occurred and should co-operate with us in having it bring the beneficial results we look for.'

Sagasta's Note Very Pacific.

Washington, Nov. 10.-It is stated on good authority that Premier Sagasta's reply to Minister Woodford's note, the full text of which was read at yesterday's cabine meeting, is eminently satisfactory to this government. In it the Spanish ministry pledges itself to correct the abuses of power in Cuba which were the subject of so much complaint during the Weyler administration and gives assurance of its friendly feeling toward the American people. It eccepts our good offices in its efforts to restore peace in Cuba, and in a perfectly respectful and friendly spirit asks this government, so far as possible, to restrain he insurgent sympathizers in the United States from giving material aid to the enemies of Spain in Cuba. The reply intimates that but for the assistance that ias been given them by filibusters from the United States, peace would have been restored long ago.

The reply, it is stated, does not contain sentence that could give offense or be construed into an expression of an unfriendly purpose or feeling against the government of the United States. On the contrary, the note is stated to be distinctly conciliatory in tone, although insisting upon the right and duty of Spain to put down an armed insurrection within its

It is evident that the reply has made a favorable impression upon President Mc-Kinley and the members of the cabinet, and it is not unlikely that one of the features of his forthcoming message to congress will be a discussion of the Cuban situation from which it will appear that there is nothing in the situation to justify there is nothing in the situation to justify present interference on the part of the United States.

Madrid, Nov. 19.—It is asserted here that the reply of the American government to the last Spanish communication declares that the United States has made the greatest efforts to stopp fillibustering and has employed many officials and expended large, sums of money to that end.

TALK OF A GLUE TRUST.

Tanning Companies and Glue Manufacturers May Effect a Combination.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 10.-Four Milwaukee tanning companies, represented by their officials, have been holding a series of meetings at the Hotel Pfister, which have considered the formation of a combination with the leading glue manufacturers of the United States to control the output of glue. The tanning concerns represented at the meting were the Pfister & Voge! Leather Company, William Recker Leather Company, Herman S. Zerhlaut Leather Company and Albert Trostel & Sons. The larger part of the raw material used in the manufacture of glue is supplied by the tanners and a combination of the leading tanners and leading glue manufecturers of the country, would, it is said, place them in control of the output of glue and enable them to regulate prices. There are said to be only about six large glue are said to be only about six large glue manufacturers in the United States, situated in Chicago, New York, Louisville and Pittsburg. Representatives of these companies, it is said, have been in Milwaukee for several days talking the proposition over with leading tanners. Three conferences have been held this week, and the last one was held to-day.

ANTI-SMUGGLING AGENTS. At an Expense of 892,567 They Saved $424,236 for the Government

Last Year. Washington, Nov. 10.—Supervising Special Agent Chance has submitted his annual report to Secretary Gage. The salaries and expenses of special agents during the year amounted to $92,567 and undervaluations and erroneous classifications were discovered amounting to $424,236.

"In the preventing of smuggling," the report says, "some valuable work has been accomplished on the Canadian and Mexican frontiers, where the smuggling of horses, cettle, drugs, furs and clothing has long prevailed. The service apprehends that the powerful combinations for the smuggling of wool, which were in existence prior to 1890, will be renewed, and that the increased vigilance will be required.

"One special agent in Europe, with two bordinates in Great Britain and two on the Continent, are engaged in securing evi-dence as to correct dutiable values of im-ported merchandise, and in the investigation of irregularities connected therewith in four cases reported by them, the in-creased duties amounted to nearly $100,000."

DIE TO-MORROW.

MURDERER DURRANT HAS BUT ONE MORE DAY TO LIVE.

WAS RESENTENCED YESTERDAY

NEVER FLINCHED WHEN HE HEARD HIS DOOM PRONOUNCED.

His Attorneys Entered Technical Objections, but They Were All Swept Away by the Judge-To Die Between Sunrise and Noon.

San Francisco, Nov. 10.-William Henry Theodore Durrant, the young medical student condemned to death for the murder of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams in this city, in April, 1895, was brought over from San Quentin prison to-day, and, upon being taken before Judge Bahers, shortly before noon, was sentenced to be hanged on Friday morning next.

fitting overcoat, light in color. Durrant made a conspicuous figure on the train and ferryboat. His reappearance in public was the signal for the gathering of crowds. The eager press of the multitude to see this murderer, perhaps to speak him, and the demonstrations along the line of his route showed that the interest of the people in his affairs has in no way abated. At the city hall there were other crowds that impeded the progress of the party. They filled the halls, and it was with difficulty that they were beaten back by the officers on duty in the corridors near the courtroom door. Durrant was taken into the reporters' room, adjoining Judge Bacourt, and remained there until the hour for hearing the case arrived, which was 11 o'clock.

Meanwhile, an impatient mob thronged the corridors and hammered relentlessly at the doors of both courtroom and anteroom. But Sheriff Whelan and his mer were on hand, and the rush was success fully stayed when no more could gain ad mittance to the courtroom.

Promptly at the appointed hour, Judge Bahers called upon Durrant to stand at the bar. The defendant's attorney interposed an objection to the proceedings upon technical grounds, which was, however, over-

"William Henry Theodore Durrant, stand up." ordered the court.
The young murderer stood up, and then his marvelous self-control asserted itself. He looked infinitely cooler, wonderfully better than he did in the ante-room. He eadly pale, but calm and self-possessed. He faced the judge without flinching, and listened intently to the judge's words.

Judge Bahers reminded him that on Deember 6, 1895, the judgment of death was pronounced upon him for the murder of Blanche Lamont on April 3, 1895; that judg ment still remained in force. An appeal to the state supreme court had been dis missed and a writ of habeas corpus denic in the United States circuit court and the refusal affirmed by the supreme court of the United States, the highest tribunal of the land. His honor quoted section 1227 of the penal code, providing that if, for any reason, judgment of death still in force and effect remains unexecuted, the court shall. on motion of the district attorney, appoint a time for the hearing of any legal reason existing for the non-carrying out o the judgment, and in the event of finding that no such reasons existed, shall pro ceed to appoint a time and place for the execution. "The district attorney has made such m tion," said the judge, "and I have sum-moned you here to-day, with your counsel, to state any legal reason you may have to show cause why this judgment should not be executed. I am ready to hear from

The defendant's attorneys again entered technical objections to the proceedings, but the judge, after listening patiently to all had to say, swept their protests aside and pronounced judgment slowly and impressively, ordering that the young de-fendant standing, alone in the crowded court room be hanged on Friday, Novem ber 12, between the hours of sunrise and

As the words "Friday, November 12," left the judge's lips, a murmur of horror rang through the courtroom. Two shor days to prepare for death, after two years of fatal hope and encouragement. As the date of his doom was pronounce ed, just the suspicion of a sneer appeared on the corners of his mouth. It was the expression of one who would bid defiance to he last. And when all was over and the officials began to clear the courtroom, he sumed his seat and chatted unconcernedly with his father and some sympathizing

It was some while before the gaping ob dispersed. All the while Chief Jailer Sattler and Captain of the Guard Birtem watched Dur-rant closely, careful to see that nothing was passed to him in any friendly handshakes. When all was clear, the cuffs were slipped on his wrists, he was rushed down the stairs into a back waiting by the en trance and off to the ferry, where the boat was taken for San Quentin.

MAN WHO LEFT THE KLONDIKE SEPT. 23 REACHES SEATTLE.

SAYS NO ONE WILL STARVE.

ADDS, HOWEVER, THAT SOME WILL

BE SHORT OF RATIONS. Few New Gold Discoveries This Season and None So Rich as Those on Eldorado and Bonansa Creeks-Working on Routes.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 10.-The steamer Homer arrived here this afternoon from Ju-neau, Alaska. Among her passengers was C. C. Burns, who left Dawson City September 23. Burns poled up the Yukon and came out over the Chilcoot trail. Burns stated that when he left Dawson no one had started down the Yukon for provisions. The people were daily expecting boats from St. Michael's. They thought that the boats were delayed by accident, and knew nothing of their inability to ascend the stream. Burns said there would be no starvation at Dawson this winter, though rations would be limited with some. According to Burns, the only new gold discoveries made this year were on Sulphur creek, and that field was not proving as rich as Eldcrado or Bonanza creeks.

Burns brought down with him about $6,000 in nuggets and dust, the result of two years' work.
The Homer also brought out a party of five surveyors who have been locating and surveying routes across the summit to Lake Linderman for a Portland company, of which D. H. Ross is at the head. They report that about 100 men are at work on a tramway from Sheep Camp over the Chilcoot trail to Lake Linderman. The last work of the surveying party was done on the White pass, over which it is pro-posed to have a tramway in operation by the first of February.

mated here to-day when the Yukon Company, of Seattle, Wash., executed a con-tract with the Roach Ship Building Company at Chester, Pa., for two 5,000 ton steamships to ply between Scattle. Wash., and St. Michael's, to connect at the latter point with the fleet of twelve Yukon river steamers now being built by Moran Bros. at Seattle. The ships to be built at Roach's will be the largest and most complete American steamers on the Pacific coast. They will be 418 feet long, 48 feet beam and 27 feet deep, and will have a carrying capacity of 4,200 tons and 1,000 pass gers. All of the passengers will have berth modations. The ships are designed to make a speed of sixteen knots an hour and it is claimed that they will be the fastest on the Pacific coast. They will pushed night and day to have them ready for the opening of navigation in the spring TO SOUTHERN GOLD FIELDS.

Central America. San Francisco, Nov. 10.-When the schooner Vine sails the last of the w she will carry the members of one of the equipped expeditions which has gone out of this port to look for gold in Central America. They are officers of the Spanish-American Developing and Mining Company. They say they have concessions from San Salvador, Costa Rica and Guatemala for 60,600 acres of territory which lies at points of contact with the countries, covering the mineral development of the tracts. The claim is made that the company has a capital stock of $2,000,000, with one-half paid up. The stock of the company is owned, according to the statements of Au-moseck, in Cleveland, O., and England, one of the principal men in it being Sir Antho-ny Bradley, of Dover, England.

IT WON'T BE GROVER, JR.

The Clevelands Decide That Their Heir Will Have Trials Enough Without That. Princeton, N. J., Nov. 16-The Princeton

collegians were greatly disappointed when it became known to-day that Grover Cleveland's son is to be named Richard Folsom Cleveland. They had given the young ma Cleveland. They had given the young man the name of Grover Cleveland, Jr., on the day of his birth, and hoped it would stick to him. The name decided upon is given in honor of Mrs. Cleveland's father.

Presents from all over the country are being showered upon the new son and heir. There are many gold mugs and gold plates and toys and pretty things for him to wear galore. The ladies of the First Presbyterian church are said to be clubbing together for the purpose of presenting the distinguished baby something that is really "worth while," as they express it. What is will be nobody seems to know just yet.
